Why are we here?

Young Europeans are often excluded from political decision-making processes.

The PEER CIVIC project was created to bridge this gap by promoting young people's active and meaningful participation in the democratic and political life of their countries and the European Union.

Main Goals

Fostering civic participation

To increase young people's involvement in voting and public consultations.

Promoting inclusive communities

Strengthen capacity building

To develop leadership skills and civic engagement among young people.

Facilitating collaboration and networking

To foster cooperation between young people from different European countries.

Methodology

Approach: Peer-led initiatives to promote active participation.

Implementation:
Direct involvement of young people in decision-making and advocacy activities.
